International Scholarship and Tuition Services, Inc. Announces New Client: Coram Specialty Infusion Services
ISTS will provide full service management of new scholarship program

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec 20 – International Scholarship and Tuition Services, Inc. (ISTS) recently signed a three-year agreement with Coram Specialty Infusion Services to manage application processing and funds disbursement for their new Together Forward scholarship program.

The Together Forward scholarship program, launching January 1, 2011, will award four renewable $2,500 scholarships to individuals living with a bleeding disorder such as hemophilia. Hemophilia is a rare, genetic blood clotting disorder affecting about 18,000 people in the United States – almost exclusively males. The transition to college is an important step for anyone, but for someone with hemophilia there is the added responsibility of being newly independent and caring for their chronic illness. Coram is excited to support these students through this new scholarship program in hopes that it will encourage them to pursue higher education.

“We are pleased to partner with ISTS in launching this scholarship program. We are glad to find a company able to provide the expertise and professionalism required of scholarship management, that is also committed to helping an under-represented community”, said Dan Greenleaf, President of Coram.

Eric Wilner, Vice President of Sales for ISTS, said they are thrilled to have the opportunity to serve the applicants of Coram’s program...“this reinforces our commitment to providing comprehensive scholarship management services that meet the diverse needs of the healthcare community,” Wilner said. “We look forward to working with Coram to help students with bleeding disorders reach their educational goals and dreams.”
